

SAYDEL COMMUNITY SCHOOL DISTRICT

RELIGIOUS-BASED EXCLUSION FROM A SCHOOL PROGRAM

Parents who wish to have their child excluded from a school program because of religious beliefs must inform the Principal. The Board authorizes the administration to allow the exclusion if it is not disruptive to the education program and it does not infringe on a compelling state or education program and it does not infringe on a compelling state or educational interest. Further, the exclusion must not interfere with other school district operations.

In notifying the Principal, the parents will abide by the following:

- The notice will be in writing;
- The objection will be based on religious beliefs;
- The objection will state which activities or studies violate their religious beliefs;
- The objection will state how these activities or studies violate their religious beliefs; and
- The objection will state a proposed alternate activity or study.

The Principal will have discretion to make this determination. The factors the Principal will consider when a student requests to be excluded from a program or activity because of religious beliefs include, but are not limited to, staff available to supervise a student who wishes to be excluded, space to house the student while the student is excluded, available principal-approved alternative course of study or activity while the student is excluded, number of students who wish to be excluded, whether allowing the exclusion places the school in a position of supporting a particular religion, and whether the program or activity is required for promotion to the next grade level or for graduation.

Students who are allowed to be excluded from a program or activity which violates their religious beliefs will be required to do an alternate supervised activity or study.
