In October, thirteen Saydel High School students in Automotive classes competed in the DMACC Auto Skills Contest. This is a 100 question test in ASE (Automotive Service Excellence) format. These students did an outstanding job as Saydel's scores were better than in any year past. Saydel last sent a team to the finals two years ago with a 4th place finish.

Saydel High School is providing students with an opportunity to participate in FIRST Tech Challenge (FTC) this year. FTC is an after school robotics competition that teaches students teamwork and problem solving through complex robot challenges. Around 10 high school students have been meeting weekly to learn, design, and create their first robot under the guidance of Mrs. Gallaher and Mrs.

Fokken as well as business partner GuideOne Insurance. League tournaments for the Central Iowa Robotics League (CIRL) will be from November 15th - January 24th. If anyone is interested in volunteering during a local robotics tournament, please contact Joshua Heyer at heyerjoshua@saydel.net.

Takin' a dip for a cause!!

Thank you for supporting the Special Olympics.

Standardized Testing — The Musical!!!!

The Saydel High School Drama Department will be presenting "Standardized Testing — The Musical!!!!" by Sam Willmott on November 7 & 8 at 7:00 PM in the high school auditorium. It is the story of eight eccentric teenagers who set out to prove their self-worth on the single biggest day of their entire academic lives. Over the course of one test, they create and destroy friendships, learn to express their individuality, and sing their hearts out through an eclectic fusion of musical theatre styles, ranging from lush ballad to sparkling jazz, sultry bossa nova, gospel, funk and everything in between.

The production pokes fun at the exams that high school students have to take by demonstrating that there is more to each of the teenagers than the information that can be captured on a sheet of Scantron bubbles. Progressing through the format of a test structure with a Multiple Choice portion consisting of solos, a fifteen minute break spoken in real time, and a Free Response section where songs build and overlap, the students expose their deepest concerns, aspirations, and sources of suburban teen angst. There are a few terms used during the show that some may consider PG-13 rated.

The cast is looking forward to sharing with you their version of this show, so get a good night's sleep, eat your balanced breakfast and get ready for a No. 2-pencil-tapping good time!

2014 Middle School Mock Trial Competition

Mia Donovan

Vs

Shannon Dempsey,

Julia Bradley, and

Scipio Futbol Club, INC.

On Wednesday, October 29th, Woodside students participated in the Iowa Regional Mock Trial Competition at the Iowa Events Center. They were one of forty-seven middle school teams competing. The team received the trial information after Labor Day and met every Sunday for two to three hours, and before and after school learning about courtroom procedures and protocols. Attorney Cory McAnelly, from McKee, Voorhees, & Sease volunteered his time and expertise to coach these students. His time, dedication, and hard work helped turn them into strong, believable attorneys and witnesses.

Mock trial is designed to introduce students to our legal system by providing a challenging, academic competition. The program offers students an opportunity for personal growth and achievement, emphasizing the importance of research, presentation, and teamwork.

In addition to teaching students about contemporary public issues and the legal system, the program encourages teachers and students to develop learning partnerships with professionals from the community. Lawyers from communities throughout Iowa contribute their time as coaches and judges at the tournaments.

Judges from Iowa's District Courts also participate. These linkages between the schools and the legal profession show students that the community is committed to their educational success.

Congratulations to Reilly Aagesen for being chosen by the judges as an "outstanding witness" for her portrayal of Christina Howard, and to Raegan Fitch as an "outstanding attorney" for her amazing closing argument for the defense.

More Woodside Middle School

The fifth graders at Woodside are studying the circulatory system in science. Students are learning the parts of the system and the jobs of each part. Students will connect their knowledge of the circulatory system and how it works with the respiratory system. In social studies they are finishing up learning about Native Americans of North America. They were to choose a tribe and create a replica of life in that tribe.
